SUPREME RESERVE CHAMPION FEMALE - Kailey Wirsta of Elk Point 4-H Beef Club accepted the Heartland Fuels UFA Petroleum Supreme Reserve Champion Female banner and a cash prize sponsored by Fontaine 'Carel' Farms from Maria Bilodeau at the St. Paul District Heifer show. Dallas Bristow showed the two-year-old's calf. Conformation judge Bill Dietrich congratulated the winner.

Boscombe and Elk Point 4-Hers took top billing at the St. Paul District 4-H Invitational Heifer Show on May 15 in Goodridge, with members from St. Paul Multi Club, Boscombe Multi Club, Goodridge Beef Club and Elk Point Beef Club participating. Conformation judge Bill Dietrich congratulated the district on "a tremendous set of cattle. You're doing a wonderful job, and the cattle industry in this area is very strong."

Brooke Dechaine of Boscombe showed the Supreme Champion and Kailey Wirsta of Elk Point the Reserve Champion.

Both winning animals also collected the top prizes in the 2-Year-Old Cow/Calf class of nine entries, Brooke's cow and calf winning the Rocky Red Angus award on their way to collecting the BOS Oilfield Services Ltd. banner and K-Cow Ranch cash prize in the final round, while Kailey accepted the Silver Knight Angus award for reserve 2-Year-Old before going on to win the Heartland Fuels UFA Petroleum banner and Fontaine 'Carel' Farms cash award.

First and second place finishers from the Yearling Heifer and 3-Year-Old Cow/Calf classes also took part in the final round of judging.

Roofing project now complete at Healthcare Centre

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

All is well at Elk Point Healthcare Centre, facility manger Kristen Pelechok was happy to report to the Elk Point and District Interagency Health and Wellness Committee last week, after her return from two weeks in fire-ravaged Fort McMurray. While there, she set up field hospitals at the Firebag site and in Fort McMurray, as well as a medical clinic in Fort McMurray, as well as assisting with the evacuation.

The Healthcare Centre's roofing project is now completed, and the barriers surrounding the roof edges will be removed after a two-week test period to make sure all is well with the new roof. The facility is also slated for a complete renovation of the laboratory this fall, with a final consultation on that project slated for later last week.

Staffing is also in good shape, with five casual LPNs hired for acute and emergency departments to cover upcoming maternity leaves. RN recruitment continues, with one possible candidate coming from Manitoba, Pelechok said. She is also continuing with cross training of staff. Interviews for a third physician have been completed, with two of the candidates well suited to the community and reference checks underway.

Pelechok said the emergency department has been really busy lately, and while bed occupancy was low both in Elk Point and across the region for a few weeks, it is now back to normal levels. She is not concerned about the facility's future and said she would not have been brought in if drastic changes were imminent.

Kyla Cameron of the Brain Injury Network is aware of clients looking for accommodation in area communities, with group home space very limited. She is willing to help people fill out AISH applications and is also willing to take on new clients. The Brain Injury Network recently completed a reaccreditation process successfully.

Margaret Modin reported that Diana Anderson is resigning from the Alberta Council on Aging committee and that the ACA will meet in St. Paul in June with the shadow health minister in attendance. Levina Ewasiuk added that adding a specialty such as geriatric care to the healthcare centre might be beneficial to the community and region and help strengthen the future of the facility. It was noted that people come from many other communities to visit our doctors because they are more accessible.

Terry Shankowski reported that the FCSS department is winding up their income tax program, with over 60 clients served at the Elk Point office. She has given out numerous new baby packages recently. Plans are coming together for Seniors Week, with barbecues planned for Heinsburg on June 8 and Elk Point on June 10, both from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mayor Parrish Tung is pleased to see the healthcare centre's roof replacement completed and that other renovations are planned, but is disappointed to still hear rumors of the facility closing, when he feels the renovations, recruitment and utilization all point to an ongoing future. He reminded everyone about the STARS golf tournament on June 1, which helps to support the much needed service. The health advisory council is now looking for members, and he feels that Elk Point needs representation on that body.

Lorne Young passed along a report from Christal Brodziak, who said birth rates had been low from January through April, but have picked up in May. Planning is already underway for the fall flu clinics, with the possibility that days will be shortened due to last year's response.

A field of 21 yearling heifers were divided into three groups for preliminary judging, with the top two from each group returning to the ring as Dietrich determined the top two overall. Elk Point 4-H members won both awards, Lexi Wirsta showing the champion yearling for the Crestview Angus prize, while Heidi Tymko showed the reserve for the T. J. Spur prize.

Four cow/calf sets, two of them with twin calves, were in the running in the 3-Year-Old class, where Hailey Dechaine of Boscombe accepted the championship sponsored by Laurence Kiwatkowski Ent. Ltd. for her cow and twin bull calves, and Kailey Wirsta received the reserve prize sponsored by Agland.

Kailey's yearling and her two-year-old and three-year-old cow-calf pairs made up the champion entry in the Herd class, for the Richter Rocky Ridge Farms award, while Megan Wirsta of Boscombe showed the reserve champions for the prize sponsored by Ben and Melody Kwiatkowski. Five herds were judged in the class.

A very competitive grooming competition, card judging and showmanship classes started off the show, with showmanship and grooming judged by Ty Dietrich and Bill Dietrich giving the 4-Hers a rundown on what they should be looking for prior to filling out their judging cards.

Winners, with sponsors in brackets, were as follows;

Grooming: Senior (Goodridge Social Ag. Society): 1. Heidi Tymko, Elk Point, 2. Megan Wirsta, Boscombe; Intermediate (J.P. and Rhea Dechaine):

1. Kailey Wirsta, Elk Point, 2. Hailey Dechaine, Boscombe; Junior (DART Simmental): 1. Emily Yaremko, St. Paul, 2. Lexi Wirsta, Elk Point.

Showmanship: Senior (Donald and Tanya Kwiatkowski) 1. Heidi Tymko, 2. Devon Bailey, Boscombe; Intermediate (CK Ent. Ltd.): 1. Kailey Wirsta, 2. Brooke Dechaine, Boscombe; Junior (Top Gro Agro): 1. Lexi Wirsta, 2. Dawson Dechaine, Boscombe.

Judging: Senior (Scott's Backhoe and Oilfield Services Ltd.): 1. Heidi Tymko, 2. Megan Wirsta; Intermediate (Real Honey Ltd.): 1. Kailey Wirsta, 2. Shelby Lynn Bailey, Boscombe; Junior (Northpark Collision and Frame): 1. Lexi Wirsta, 2. Kennedy Hebert, Boscombe.

Mistress of ceremonies for the show was Cecile Mathiot, while Ed Cozicor was ringmaster. The day's show sponsors also included Bayer Crop Sciences, Caouette and Sons, Xtreme Power Products and St. Paul Municipal Seed Cleaning Association Ltd.

Business targeted in break-and-enter

REVIEW STAFF

Elk Point's business district suffered the first break-and-enter in "quite some time," last week, RCMP Sgt. Barry LaRocque reports.

Elk Point RCMP received a call around 4 a.m. on Wednesday, May 18 in regards to an alarm at Kelly's Closet on Main Street, Elk Point. Upon arrival, they found the back door of the store had been pried open and it appeared that multiple suspects had entered the premises, gathering up a quantity of men's clothing and hats, including jeans, t-shirts, and hoodies in sizes large and extra large, before they fled.

No suspects had been identified by press time.

The public is also asked to be on the alert for any new clothing being offered for sale on line or in person, including Buffalo or Silver jeans, Metal Mulisha, Ten Tree or Fox hats, Metal Mulisha, Ten Tree, Red Dragon or Bench hoodies, or Ten Tree, Buffalo, Guess, Fox or Etnies t-shirts.

Anyone with information regarding such sales or regarding this crime is asked to call the Elk Point Detachment at 780-724-3964 or CrimeStoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

ELK POINT ATB STAFF - were counting smaller cash than usual as they hosted their annual Teddy for a Toonie barbecue last Tuesday, a fundraiser for the Stollery Children's Hospital. Tammy Klatt stopped by to support this worthy cause.

Celebrating 4-H

With one 4-H show behind us and three more coming up this week and in the next few weeks, we take a look back at the huge role 4-H has played in our community for the past half a century.

Yes, half a century: it was back in 1965-66 that the Elk Point 4-H Beef Club was first formed with Ray Hellquist as leader. Over the years, heifers were added to the mix, and in the early 1980s it became a Multi Club, which over the years has had projects ranging from small motors and woodworking to photography and cooking. Elk Point Saddle Slickers horse club also operated for quite a few years before running short of members, then a horse project became part of the Multi Club. Most recently, the Beef project decided to go on their own, with the Multi Club now having a variety of projects, including sheep, canines and crafts.

Next month the two clubs will come together to celebrate 50 years of 4-H in Elk Point at a picnic and reunion at Stoney Lake Hall on June 10. That's Farmers' Day, and a perfect time to celebrate this great organization that was started by farm families in the area and has enriched young lives ever since.

If you were involved with 4-H in Elk Point, please come out for this event and share those great memories. The Beef Club Achievement Day is this Saturday at C. G. Baker Arena, beginning at 10 a.m.

RECREATION CORNER

Large items picked up today

JENA COLBOURNE
Recreation Director

Today is large item pick up; if you haven't already seen the Town's Public Works department in your back alley, then you may still have time. The Town will pick up large items, today, Tuesday May 24th if placed in your back alley; please, no wet garbage.

For the remainder of the week, the Town encourages everyone to help keep our community clean with spring clean up. When you're out walking, please be considerate and dispose of garbage properly. If you see garbage or recycling along your way, pick it up. If you have an elderly or disabled neighbour, help by cleaning up around their yard and back alley. Clean your own back alley and encourage your household not to litter and to recycle and reuse.

June 4th is a big day in Elk Point! It's the ECDC Carnival at Play 2 Learn, where they will be unveiling a mural on the side of the building. The new work of art will add to the Town's atmosphere of being child and artist friendly! There will be bouncy houses, face painting and other children's games throughout out the day.

The annual car show is also on June 4th. No pre-registration required, just shine up your ride and bring it down to register at the Empress from 9 a.m. until noon. The show goes until 4 p.m., when the prizes will be given out.

AND - it's Community Garage Sale Day! With all the extra people in town for the car show and ECDC Carnival it's a perfect time to showcase items you have for sale.

If you would like more information on any Elk Point events, or if you have an event you would like to highlight, visit elkpoint.ca. You can submit your own events and always be in the know of what's happening in the community. AND follow us on Facebook, Twitter & Instagram!

WAY BACK WHEN...

Celebrating graduates, gleaming autos and the energy sector

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF MAY 24 IN...

Saturday, May 24 was a "Once in a Lifetime" experience for the F. G. Miller Class of 1986, who chose Glenna Grykuliak as their valedictorian and former FGM teacher Donna Norman as their guest speaker, the latter reminiscing about the exploits of this "lively, talkative group" she had taught in junior high. F. G. Miller student Joanne Giguere set a new record in the 200 Metre, Wanda Garriock won titles in Hurdles and 100 Metre, and Kevin Ference won the Javelin championship at track meet zones in Fort McMurray.

1991

Elk Point Elks and Royal Purple celebrated three decades of service to the community, with 91-year-old Ron Barwick recognized as a charter member of both the Elk Point and Vermilion Elks lodges and the oldest active Elks Lodge member in Canada. Cars and trucks ranging from a 1903 museum piece to a 1986 example of artwork on wheels were on display at Elk Point Auto Club's fourth annual Show and Shine.

1996

Both residential and non-residential mill rates took a slight drop from the previous year's figures as town council passed their 1996 budget. F. G. Miller's Class of 1996 chose "Cherish Yesterday, Live Today, Dream Tomorrow" as their graduation theme, with class historians Tyson Warawa and Jodi Saranchuk taking a look back and class presidents Shanna Baker and Justin Conrad speaking of "a truly memorable year in which the positive aspects have prevailed."

2001

Brand-new MLA Ray Danyluk met with town council and was asked for help in bettering the community by improving roads in the industrial subdivision, with more help needed than the $46,000 per year street improvement grants. Town council dashed the hopes of a delegation of residents who asked for new recreational facilities for their children, including a wading pool at the golf course and an outdoor skating rink.

Elk Point celebrated the energy sector's vital role in the economy with a dinner in their honour hosted jointly by the town, chamber of commerce and economic development committee, where government and industry leaders offered encouraging messages. Two days later, another dinner party honoured another important sector: the employees and staff of local businesses, this time with guest speaker Walter deSilva telling the honoured guests that customer service is all-important.

2011

Traditions met the future as the presentation of eagle feathers to the graduands (above) was a significant part of Heinsburg Community School's Class of 2011 Farewell Ceremonies.

Chamber of commerce president Sandy Smith had "35 vendors and counting" lined up for the Cars, Crafts and Cuisine event scheduled for June 4, which would fill Main Street with activities for the whole family.

Peewee boys on winning streak

DOUG BASSETT
Review Sports

The Peewee boys continued their streak of playing some great ball, with another win over St Paul, final score 16-11, to start the season 3-0. They were really hitting the ball last night. Tulsens Wells had his first triple, Danny Cardinal hit a hard double down the third base line, Kobe 'The Cobra' Warawa had a strong game and went 2-3 at the plate. 'Super Spencer' McNamara had a good eye at the plate and scored a run. Their good defense was on display as well, as Jace 'the Stafford Streak' made two great pick-off moves, catching the base runners with Chase 'Big Papa' Pankiw making some nice catches and tags but the runners narrowly made it to the base. The team's hard throwing closer 'King Cole' Bendixen came in for the third straight game to shut down the other team, while adding his first home run of the year at the plate. Charlie 'Angel' Rogal also had a home run and did a great job back catching. The boys continue to improve and are getting better every game.

In Squirt girls, a big home run by Avery 'Whirlwind' Warawa who also was strong on first base making all kinds of snags. Paige Skarsen was terrific on the mound throwing perfect strikes, Jadey 'the Lady' Capjack doing the back-catching duties, blocking any stray balls and making strong throws to the bases.

The Mosquitoes No.1 defeated St. Paul on Thursday night 23 to 11; Nathaniel Cousins pitched his first game and did a great job. Heath McNamara was smacking the ball really well; Vanden 'Mario' Moroziuk making a huge catch on a line drive tagged the bag and got the double play to end the game. Vaughn 'Vulture' Ockerman fanning all three batters he faced, sending them back to the dugout. Phoenix Canning and 'Kid Kade' Fontaine also pitched very well and 'Mic Jager' Fontaine pounded a home run.

The Mosquito No. 2 had a great game too, against St. Paul and the whole team gave a really good effort. The 'Might Casey' Warawa was very strong at the plate and in the field and so was today's birthday boy, Cash 'CC' Capjack who is celebrating his 10th birthday today. 'CC' was the first one in to score in this game and struck out three up on the mound. Tonight the Mosquito No. 1 and No. 2 will be playing against each other, so come out and see the up-and-coming major leaguers in action.

The Bantam girls had a really competitive game against Bonnyville this past week. This game went the full seven innings in less than two hours, so that tells you how good the fielding and pitching was, but the Pumas have a really strong line up when it come to batting and it will be a real battle in the league final between these two strong teams. Abby Baker and Keanna Radcliffe sharing the pitching duties, Mackenzie Evans behind the mask, Abby and Mackenzie both hammering home runs, Keanna with a triple.

Olivia Rose booked for July 1

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

There's a rising star on Elk Point's Canada Day horizon. Olivia Rose Leaf is coming back to her home town of Elk Point to entertain the Canada Day crowd with two 45-minute sets before and after the July 1 Canada Day Idol competition, which for the first time ever, is being held outdoors on the Canada Day stage.

Leaf, who was named Elk Point's Canada Day Idol in 2013, will also join another up and coming young artist, Vilna's Cassidy Zahar, to open for Brett Kissel at his Hometown Homecoming Concert in St. Paul on June 18.

The Canada Day Idol competition is open to amateur singers aged 10 to 29, and contestants may perform as a solo act, duet or trio, with the option to perform once as a solo and once as part of a duet or trio, with separate entries for each performance. Full contest rules and details will soon be available on the town's website, elkpoint.ca

Canada Day plans are progressing, with sponsorships now coming in. The Town of Elk Point and County of St. Paul have joined forces to sponsor the fireworks display that winds up the day, and businesses and organizations are getting on board to sponsor events ranging from the Kids' Zone, with its bouncy houses and Loopy Ball fun, to the second annual Chili Cook-off competition, with some sponsor opportunities still available.

Elk Point Municipal Library is busy rounding up volunteers for their pancake breakfast, a bagpiper has been lined up to lead the parade, and the Ukrainian Orthodox church group has confirmed that they will again host a pyrohy dinner at the Seniors' Recreation Centre following the parade. The Filipino community will not be operating their food concession this year, but a food truck, the ice cream truck and a First Nations concession offering bannock burgers and Indian tacos have indicated that they plan to be on hand all afternoon.

A dunk tank, Speed Pitch and Alien Invasion have been booked to entertain the teens and preteens during the afternoon. Elk Point 4-H Multi Club representatives came to last week's meeting to report that planning is going well for their achievement day, to be held in front of the arena on Canada Day.

Inside the arena, the Chili Cook-off organizers are willing to share space with a lineup of business vendors, if enough tables can be tracked down to accommodate the added group. The Survivor competition and beer gardens are both back on the agenda, and will be much the same as last year.
